

Share Your ASE Instructor Expertise with Others Become an Evaluation Team Leader (ETL)

ETLs are an integral part of the ASE accreditation process. We are looking for knowledgeable, professional automotive, truck, and collision repair instructors to represent ASE and assist other training programs through ASE accreditation.

Being an ETL is a great way to give back to your industry, network, see other programs and help other instructors with program improvement.

If you meet these requirements*, please join us:

- Teaching at or recently retired from an ASE accredited training program
- ASE Certified Master Auto, Truck or Collision Repair technician
- Three years of teaching experience with a BA or BS in education and three years as a technician, or four years of teaching experience and six years as a technician (no degree requirement)

WHY become an ETL?

"Becoming an ETL opened many doors for me to improve my program and meet other instructors. Each time I complete an evaluation, I come back with ideas on how to make my program better. My administration supports my efforts because it is great professional development, and I am helping other programs improve!

It is a win-win-win!!" Veteran ETL

To become an ETL, you must:

- Complete online training prior to the in-person training.
- Attend the FREE one-day in-person training session.
- Pass an online final assessment.
